Lawyers and Spiders.
Day, the author of "Sandford and Merton," had decided opinions on the killing of even an insect. He was with Sir William Jones at his chambers in London one day, and a spider fell on the table. "Kill that spider," said Jones. "No," preached Day in his Sandford style, "I will not kill that spider, Jones. I do not know that I have a right to kill that spider. Suppose when you are going in your coach to Westminster a superior being, who perhaps may have as much power over you as you have over this insect, should say to his companion: 'Kill that lawyer! Kill that lawyer!' How should you like that? And I am sure to most people a lawyer is a more noxious animal than a spider."

Curious Mexican Laws.

They have some very curious criminal laws in Mexico. For instance, it is twice as much of an offense to mutilate the face of a woman as that of a man. The law seems to be based on the idea that a woman's best possession is her beauty and that to mar it does her a great injury. There is another curious law. If a person should be wounded in an encounter the punishment of the offender is fixed by the number of days his victim has to stay in the hospital or under a doctor's care. A fine is fixed at forty days in the way of a general division. If the injured man occupies more than forty days in his recovery the penalty doubles up.

The Difficulty.

Mrs. Watson, a woman whose pretensions to beauty nature flatly refused to assist in any way, saw in a shop window a bonnet, the sort of thing that a modiste in town calls a "creation" just a knotting of velvet, a fold of lace and pink roses, but a snare for feminine vanity because it looked so simple and easy to wear. She hurried in, examined it closely, inquired the price and at last tried it on. Then, after a few moments of disappointed staring, she took it off again.

"I don't think I'll have it, after all, Miss Deppenau," she said. "What do you suppose is the matter with the thing? I'm sure it looked ever so much prettier in the window."

"But, my dear madam," answered the milliner, with quick conviction, "you must remember that you have your face to contend with now!"—Youth's Companion.

That our American forests abound in plants which possess the most valuable medicinal virtues is abundantly attested by scores of the most eminent medical writers and teachers. Even the untamed Indians had discovered the usefulness of many native plants before the advent of the white race. This information, imparted freely to the whites, led the latter to continue investigations until to-day we have a rich assortment of most valuable American medicinal roots.

Dr. Pierce believes that our American forests abound in most valuable medicinal roots for the cure of most obstinate and fatal diseases, if we would properly investigate them and in confirmation of this conviction, he points with pride to the almost marvelous cures effected by his "Golden Medical Discovery," which has proven itself to be the most efficient stomach tonic, liver invigorator, heart tonic and regulator, and blood cleanser known to medical science. Dyspepsia, or indigestion, torpid liver, functional and even valvular and other affections of the heart yield to its curative action. The reason why it cures these and many other affections, is clearly shown in a little book of extracts from the standard medical works which is mailed free to any address by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., to all sending request.

Not less marvelous in the unparalleled cures it is constantly making of woman's many peculiar afflictions, weakness and distressing derangements, is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescriptions, which is amply attested by thousands of satisfied testimonials contributed by grateful patients who have been cured by it of catarrhal, uterine, ovarian, periodic, irregularities, prolapsus and other disengagements caused by weakness, ulceration of uterus and kindred afflictions, often after many other advertised medicines, and physicians had failed.

Both the above mentioned medicines are wholly made up from the glyptic extracts of native medicinal roots. The processes employed in their manufacture were originated with Dr. Pierce, and they are carried on by skilled chemists and pharmacists with the aid of apparatus and appliances specially designed and built for this purpose. Both medicines are entirely free from alcohol and all other harmful habit-forming drugs. A full list of their ingredients is printed on each bottle wrapper.
